2023 GUBERNATORIAL Election Brief

Your Guide to the 2023 Gubernatorial Primary

Good news, KASA members! The spate of election ads on your TV, phone, and radio are about to take a short pause. As an odd-numbered year, next Tuesday's primary features only the seats for constitutional officers and the office of the governor. While Governor Beshear will be on the ballot, he does not have any meaningful opposition and is expected to sail through this primary without effort.

As part of our growing work to connect you to the people that drive education policy, we reached out to those vying for the opportunity to challenge Governor Beshear in the November General Election. For those of you eligible to vote in the Republican primary, these are the top three education policy priorities that these candidates promised they would champion if they make it to the Governor's Mansion.

In respect of our elected officials, they are listed first (in order of tenure of service in office) with the remaining three following in alphabetical order. KASA has not endorsed any candidate in this election.

For more information on their education policy stances, pull out the spring edition of the Kentucky School Leader magazine, or click here. You can also watch the KET Debate.

Mike Harmon

Harmon is the current state auditor of public accounts and will be termed out at the end of this year. Harmon was a former state representative

Ryan Quarles

Quarles is the state's current commissioner of agriculture, an office he's held for nearly eight years and cannot run for again due to term limits.

Daniel Cameron

Cameron is the current attorney general for the state of Kentucky. He has led in the polls and in fundraising in recent weeks. Cameron is and insurance agent before becoming auditor. His fundraising numbers have been bleak, but the candidate has strong name ID across the state. In a Facebook message conversation, Harmon said he would focus on 1) Firing Commissioner Glass and restructuring KBE to include people from all educational backgrounds including public, private, Christian, Parochial, and home schools; 2) pass a bill that is similar to Sarah Huckabee Sanders (Governor of Arkansas) in which teacher pay is dramatically increased, but also tie school choice to the bill; 3) have the same determination for every child his mom had for the children she taught in kindergarten to ensure they knew how to read and read well. You can see his full platform on his campaign website here.

Quarles is a farmer and what can only be called a serial learner (two undergraduate degrees, a Master's from Harvard, and a doctorate in higher education from Vanderbilt). His late mother was a higher education professor who earned four postsecondary degrees before her death from cancer in 2019. His top three education policy initiatives will center around 1) teacher retention and recruitment, which should include ensuring that we create an attractive work environment for teachers; 2) engaging parents in the educational process so they know what is being taught; 3) promoting vocational and trade programming, showing our students that a Quarles administration will have just as much respect for workers who have dirt on their boots and grease on their elbows as it would of doctors and lawyers. You can view his full platform on his campaign website here.

endorsed by former President Donald Trump. His top three education policy initiatives will center around putting parents, students and teachers first and includes 1) defending Kentucky's values; 2) raising teacher pay; 3) reducing bureaucracy and keeping politics out of boards of education. You can see his full platform on his campaign website here.

Kelly Craft

Craft is the only candidate to have named her lieutenant governor candidate during the primary. Craft chose former Senate Education Chair Max Wise, who sponsored the controversial SB150 that

Eric Deters

Deters is a newcomer to politics but has raised enough money to be invited to all the major debates. He is a retired attorney and author who made headlines last year in a skirmish with the Kentucky Bar

Alan Keck

Keck is the current Mayor of Somerset and a businessman. Keck has less name recognition. He's behind in fundraising and has less than 1% support in a recent poll. As mayor, Keck recruited a controversial SB 100 that passed during the 2023 legislative session. Craft is a former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and Canada under Donald Trump. She has the distinct advantage of not having to devote time to fundraising – she is married to billionaire coal magnate Joe Craft, who has loaned nearly north of $10 million – making this the most expensive gubernatorial primary in history. KASA reached out to the Craft Campaign, but did not receive a response on what their education priorities would be. You can see her full platform on her campaign website here.

skirmish with the Kentucky Bar Association that resulted in his disbarment. In a text exchange with the candidate, Deters said he would 1) work to increase teacher salaries; 2) focus on teaching over testing; 3) increase measures to protect children. You can see his full platform on his campaign website here.

Mayor, Keck recruited a bourbon distillery, increased tourism, and led the city through a rebranding effort. Keck said if he becomes governor, he will focus on 1) investing in public and private programs for pre-K and early literacy; 2) increase teacher pay, protect pensions and make student teaching a paid internship; 3) fund more student sponsored support personnel positions. You can see his full platform on his campaign website here.

Don't Forget to Vote!

We don't care how you vote, just that you do. KASA is proud to serve thousands of school leaders from border to border. We hope you'll take some time to research the candidates, mark some time on your calendar, and exercise your right to vote next Tuesday, May 16!

Elections have consequences. Please vote to ensure election outcomes that support public education.

Steve,

I have input ESS data into IC for 22-23. I sent you the application for a daytime ESS waiver last week- do I need to submit this somewhere or do you submit? What other actions do I need to do as far as ESS?

For SB150, I received this in an email:

Human Sexuality Curriculum (grades K-5)
This law takes effect June 29, 2023.

Action Needed: Include required policy language

In keeping with Kentucky state law, KRS 158.1415, the council must have:

(d) A policy to respect parental rights by ensuring that:

1. Children in grade five (5) and below do not receive any instruction ... on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases; or
2. Any child, regardless of grade level, ... not receive any instruction or presentation that has a goal or purpose of students studying or exploring gender identity, gender expression, or sexual orientation; ...

Guidance — The council must have a policy that meets these requirements:

Children in grade five and below:

- will not receive instruction on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases
- will not receive instruction for the purpose of studying or exploring gender identity or expression or sexual orientation

Here's some sample language to help you. In the SBDM Curriculum Responsibilities Policy add a section:

Grades K-5 and Human Sexuality Curriculum

In keeping with Kentucky state law, KRS 158.1415 students grade five and below will not receive instruction:

- on human sexuality or sexually transmitted diseases

Human Sexuality Curriculum (grades K-5)

This law takes effect June 29, 2023.

Do we need to come up with our own SBDM policy, or do you have one with the exact language that Boyle will use that we can adopt? I want the language to be consistent with the boards.

Thanks,

Jenna

I haven't seen anything on specific guidance for SBDM councils and policies. I know the board policy will reflect the new law. You need to make sure you remove the one health standard from your curriculum. You could add a sentence or two in your curriculum policy to reflect SB 150 changes but it is probably not necessary.

Superintendent Wade,

The Dual Credit Office at BCTC is requesting notification of your district's SB 150 policy in regard to dual credit courses. As SB 150 sets parameters on courses taken by public high school students, there is a direct impact on dual credit course offerings for current and future dual credit students in your district.

Please, see the attached letter from the dual credit office for further clarification of our request. We will need notification of your district's SB 150 policy as soon as possible. The sooner we receive your district's SB 150 policy, the sooner we can prepare for the fall enrollment of dual credit students in your district.

Please, reach out by email or phone (859-246-6912) with any questions or concerns.

Hey Emma!

Do you have any other districts policies relating to SB 150 that you'd mind sharing? I'd be interested to see how other districts are addressing this with dual credit. We did not get any guidance from the KSBA policy update, so I was curious how others are approaching this.

Superintendent Wade,

The Dual Credit Office at BCTC is requesting notification of your district's SB 150 policy in regard to dual credit courses. As SB 150 sets parameters on courses taken by public high school students, there is a direct impact on dual credit course offerings for current and future dual credit students in your district.

Please, see the attached letter from the dual credit office for further clarification of our request. We will need notification of your district's SB 150 policy as soon as possible. The sooner we receive your district's SB 150 policy, the sooner we can prepare for the fall enrollment of dual credit students in your district.

Hi Emma,

The policy is going to our board for approval tonight and will be ready tomorrow. I wanted to have board approval before submitting to you. So that you know, our draft policy is the same as the KSBA policy you sent me from another district as a sample last Thursday. I will send the policy once the board approves it tonight. I hope this update helps!

Thanks,

Superintendent Wade,

Good afternoon and thank you for sending your policy regarding SB 150. Based on what we received from you, Boyle County Schools have elected to implement the parental permission required for courses containing content regarding human sexuality/sexually transmitted diseases. If this is incorrect, please let us know before classes start on August 14, 2023.

As of today, Bluegrass Community & Technical College (BCTC) in conjunction with the Kentucky Community & Technical College System (KCTCS) has identified courses that may contain such content. The following courses have been identified as having potential content that may include human sexuality and/or sexually transmitted diseases, and therefore would require parental permission for your students to be enrolled. If you have students that will enroll or have already enrolled in these courses, the high school has the responsibility to provide parents/guardians an opportunity to review the curriculum/syllabus and other course materials/activities three weeks prior to the inception of the class. The regular sixteen-week BCTC semester classes begin on Monday, August 14, 2023, so we will be providing access to those high schools who have provided us with their SB 150 policies by Monday, July 24, 2023.

The courses BCTC can offer for dual credit that require parental permission are: ANT 220; ANT 231; ART 109; ART 210; BAS 274; BIO 118; BIO 120; BIO 130; BIO 135; BIO 137; BIO 139; CRJ 201; CRJ 202; CRJ 204; CRJ 208; CRJ 235; CRJ 278; EMS 202; ENG 135; ENG 233; ENG 281; EQS 240; EST 150; FAM 253; FIR 230; GEO 172; HIS 267; KMA 100; NAA 100; PSY 110; SOC 230; and WGS 200.

I am communicating with you today regarding this and Dr. Emma Gibbs, Director of Dual Credit at BCTC, will be sending communication to your high school staff who coordinate your dual credit efforts regarding the following:

- How to access syllabus for a class that is offered by BCTC for dual credit on the list identified above. Please note we are providing the most recent syllabus we have for the class in question which is from the Spring 2023 or Fall 2022 semester.
- Process for ensuring we have received communication from the high school that your school is in possession of the written parental permission slip your school has developed for each student enrolling in a course requiring permission.
- Contact information for our point person at BCTC to address questions about the syllabus and/or any questions about the enrollment process for dual credit.
- Since some students have already been enrolled in classes that require parental permission, Dr. Gibbs will also provide a deadline whereby we must receive confirmation from the high school partner for the student to remain in the course in question. After this date, we will drop the student if we do not have confirmation of parental permission.

We realize that this is a new process and look forward to working together to ensure we are
